Western Lake Erie Observations

Observations from buoys, aircraft, and satellite provide situational awareness and feedback on the success of US and Canadian harmful algal bloom control measures.