The bloom has not reformed in the central basin. Wind speeds exceeded 15 knots on 7/24 which causes mixing of the water column. Recent satellite imagery has been patchy, but shows no indication that the bloom has reformed.

No increases in microcystis were reported by field sampling (U.Toledo and NOAA/GLERL).

- Dupuy, Stumpf